BACKGROUND

Jessica Brenner joined Northland Securities in 2021 and is a Continuing Disclosure Specialist for the Public Finance team. She assists Northland clients with meeting their continuing disclosure obligations in the municipal securities market. In her work with cities, counties, school districts, and development agencies, she compiles the required economic and financial information for issuers' annual reports and works with clients to ensure their information is represented accurately to bondholders. She also monitors clients across various platforms for any changes that would require notification of a material event. Jessica's previous work in administration and business operations included operational budgeting, managing accounts payable and receivable processes, and conducting payroll processing, which prepared her well for navigating the highly important and detailed field of continuing disclosure.

Jessica believes in the importance of empowering clients to understand the purpose of continuing disclosure and helping them stay educated and informed about this aspect of the municipal securities market. She also engages with other participants in the field of public finance, including bond attorneys and audit firms. By communicating with professionals who work in different, but overlapping, areas of the municipal bond industry, Jessica stays current on continuing disclosure developments and regulations of the SEC and MSRB, and ensures that Northland's clients are well informed about any changes.

EDUCATION

Bachelor of Arts in Psychology, Flagler College – St. Augustine, Florida
